

STONELOW CELEBRATES READING FILM

I am creating a 'Celebration of Reading' film for Stonelow, as part of World Book Day. You can take part by:

- Writing/creating a book review,
- Take a photo of you holding your favourite book,
- Take a photo of you reading in an unusual place,
- Take a photo of you dressed up as a book character.

By sending in an entry which has a photograph of your child, you are giving permission for them to be in the video which will be posted on our school YouTube account. There will be no names included in the film. I look forward to seeing your entries (and of course...yes you can do one more than one if you wish). Please email:
